Instructions for the teacher:

Write the names of all of your students on the poster at the beginning of the year. Find ways to celebrate students' birthdays to make them feel special and show them that they are an important member of the class.

The Wheels books include Values lessons in which children are encouraged to talk about themselves and others. By celebrating birthdays, we create community and celebrate each and every student in our class. Want to learn more about the Wheels books? Contact your local sales representative.
